Four representatives of McMorries and Co., the firm which made the valuation survey, were present to hear complaints and answer questions.

No figures were available as to amount of reductions in values that were made Judge Thurman said, as representatives of the McMorries firm took the work sheets with them to make changes on the renditions cards. For the most part, he said, there were no changes.

New Park In Northeast Hamlin Now Being Used by Area Youth

A park in Northeast Hamlin started several months ago is now being used by children in that area. The park was made possible by the organization of the Northeast Hamlin Development Club.

Through the work of the board of directors and contributions of friends land was secured, leveled, and made into a park which has swings, seesaws, croquets, horseshoe pitching and Little League baseball area.

The park is located between Northeast 5th and 6th streets.

The project now being planned is a combination tennis-basketball court. Also, water is needed so that trees and flowers can be planted. The addition of lights would make it possible to plan night activities for the youth.

The board of directors is working toward the above goals and any club, organization, or individual wishing to aid the group may contact any of the board members during the summer.

The board is composed of Willis Paige, president; James Mayes, treasurer; Elgin Baldwin, Bill W. Cork, Rev. A. F. Douglas, L. J. Lee, Freddie Lyles and John R. Mayfield, directors.

The park development group has expressed their thanks to all those who have made the present facility possible. The swings were made by the Hamlin Jaycees and many individuals have made donations.

NEW PARK NOW IN USE—Children in Northeast Hamlin are shown playing at the new park started by the Northeast Hamlin Development Club. The swings were built by the Hamlin Jaycees and through donations from groups and individuals the see-saws and other improvements were made. The park includes two blocks and on the east section is a Little League ball field.

CHERYL GIBSON SETS PATTERN — Cheryl Gibson, 12-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Gibson, is shown as she set the pattern for the barrel race for Saturday night's performance of the Hamlin rodeo. Electric Co-ops are
AT WORK...

Rural electric cooperative systems were created by rural Americans themselves to bring electricity to their farms and homes and business enterprises, when service was unavailable elsewhere.

Motivated only by the need of the consumer and based on sound democratic principles, with each consumer-member casting his vote to determine our policies, our enterprise has helped bring the benefits of Twentieth Century progress to rural areas, and has proved itself as a model of democracy in action. To keep one step ahead of continually growing power requirements in our rural areas is both our duty and our aim.

Neinda Philosopher Joins In With National Beauty Drive With A Few Minor Exceptions

Editor's note: The Neinda Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Route 1 discusses beauty this week, in an odd sort of way.

Dear editor:

I have been reading about a national drive to preserve the natural beauty of this country and I can go along with a good part of it, although first Washington has to understand my definition of natural beauty.

Some people I suppose would consider an electric light pole unnatural, it didn't grow there, but not me. There's nothing more countryside toward your house bringing power to an electric water pump to replace a rope and bucket. A rope and bucket may be more romantic looking in a rustic sort of way, but if you want to get completely natural you'd eliminate all hydrants and have everyone cup his hands and drink out of a spring, preferably barefooted.

One of the major goals I understand in the beauty drive is to eliminate automobile junk along the highways, or at least screen them from view, and I'd like Washington to know I'm ahead on this. I left a cultivator at the turn-off near a public road 18 years ago when I went to the house to get a drink of water and have not successfully screened it with weeds I estimate to be about 8 feet tall. Furthermore I have not contributed to the junkyard eyesore personally as I am still driving my car. Also, I haven't put up any billboard or rickety hotdog stands, and I don't print newspaper to be thrown out of cars to litter up the highways. You might say I'm in almost total compliance. However, there is one plank in the beauty program that seems to me outrageous. One of the members of the planning group got a little overenthusiastic and wanted to eliminate sagging fences along the highways. "There's nothing more unattractive," he said, "than sagging wires along a highway winding through the rolling countryside."

Well, I'll tell you. Tight wires and tight bankers have their usefulness, but not in the beauty department. The prime purpose of a fence or a banker is not to look at.

I'll tighten the wires on my fences only when my cows get out, or actually when they get out so often my neighbors announce what's going to happen if I don't do something about it, today, not tomorrow. That's the way to get a fence tightened, not through Washington.

You let some official tell you how tight your fence has to be, and his next move will be to tell you what kind and color of cows you can graze behind it. Cows, like Congressmen, are not to be gazed at esthetically. They're to be milked as long as they produce, then turned over to the packers.

Yours faithfully
J. A.

HEIDENHEIMER'S

FAIRVIEW NEWS

Mr. Elmer Joiner
Finally, it seems that the farmers all have their cotton up, so things aren't quite as hectic, but they are still real busy getting it all plowed out. In the eastern part of the community a big rain fell last week, early in the week, but didn't reach as far as town, except for around a half inch. Maize is headed out and the best prospects in years for a maize crop.

The Fred Rosenbaum and the H. L. Fords took advantage of the rain and went to Brownwood lake, fishing, last Thursday and returned Friday. They reported no luck, but were honest enough to admit that they did buy fish to eat, from some one luckier than they.

The Family Night was enjoyed by all of those that enjoy ice cream, last Wednesday night. Twenty two came from Hanna Church, twenty three were present from our church and three visitors from Hamlin, or we might not say visitors, just old timers came back home for a visit. Since there were eight freezers of cream and three cakes, believe every one had the opportunity to eat all they wanted. Rev. Bob Watson, pastor of Hanna, brought devotional, and a period of singing was enjoyed. The devotional period, eating period and fellowship period all made for a very enjoyable evening.

home, spend the night and return the next day, so since she had been away several weeks she visited with her parents the Winson Grays.

The Winson Grays had lots of company last week. His brother, Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Gray, Ken and Douglas, from California, also a son of the Doyle Grays, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Gray and little sons, David and Douglas, were Tuesday visitors. Also on hand were Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Gray, Anson, parents of the Gray men. Saturday night, the Gary Grays returned, and were in church with them Sunday.

Mrs. Joyce Bills, Jana and Tonya, arrived on the train, early Sunday morning, to stay until Friday with her parents the Winson Grays. They were in both services Sunday, Jana helping "Grandpa" lead the singing Sunday night.

In case anyone is wondering where the Henrys took off for when it rained, last week, will report that they went to Midland Thursday and stayed until Saturday, with their son, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Henry and girls. It is amazing to some of the younger folks how Mr. and Mrs. Henry can go visiting when they are so tired after working, but even though they are senior citizens they do enjoy going, and we all hope we can just be as active and lovable as they, when we get a few years older.

Mrs. Mary E. Tanner and Larry, were visitors of the

Kenneth Leverett over the weekend.

Visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Flavil Holmes, from Sunday until Thursday, were their granddaughters, Melinda Wright, Abilene, and Melody Holmes, Big Spring. Mrs. Jimmy Holmes came Thursday to get the little daughter, returning the next morning. Melinda spent the last part of the week with Mr. and Mrs. Wright in Hamlin.

It is always a great pleasure to me to report that I went to Abilene and carried a dear friend, Mrs. Lois Hampton, to the Rehabilitation Center, and to report on her condition. Her usual day is Thursday, but last week arrangement had been made for her to go Wednesday to see Dr. Brey, who is only at the place on that day. After an examination, he recommended she be fitted with a short leg brace, to aid her in learning to walk with her bad leg. Mrs. Hampton's general condition is improving, the therapy she receives at the center has helped her, both physically and her speech.

Mrs. Kenneth Leverett was honored, Saturday night, with a pink and blue shower in the home of Mrs. Elmer Joiner.

Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Goodwin and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Joiner went to the Anson Hospital, to visit with the family of Mr. T. J. Treadwell, who had serious surgery Thursday. Mr. Treadwell, an uncle of the women, had an emergency operation for a ruptured ulcer, is reported to be doing well for the seriousness of his surgery, but was not having any company.

Ten people, including three of our four deacons, were present at the Workers Conference, in Anson, last Tuesday night. We felt rather proud, for that exceeded the number a lot of the bigger churches had present. The meeting was on the relation of the pastor and deacon, so 66 deacons were there.

The men met last Wednesday morning, at the church, to clean the yards for with all of the rain we have had, it was looking rather "wooly", as the saying goes, some were even getting afraid of snakes. It looks much better and we hope it stays that way until our revival, which will only be three weeks away.

BIRTH
Mr. and Mrs. Roy Eisenbach are parents of a boy, Neil Wade, born June 15 at 6:46 p. m. He weighed 4 lbs. 4 oz. They have three other children, Roy Jr., 6, Lane Allen, 5, and Van Kent, 4. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Eisenbach and Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Piedfort, all of San Angelo.

LONGING

To every child there comes a time when they begin to wonder... Where did I come from? Who made the trees? Who made the mountains? EVERYONE has a desire to know their creator.

"O GOD, thou art my God; early will I seek thee: my soul thirsteth for thee..."

This longing for knowledge of God should be satisfied at an early age.

"Train up a child in the way he should go: and when he is old, he will not depart from it."

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford

By - - Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association
AUSTIN, Tex. — A total of 33 interim study committees were created during the recent legislative session.

Meetings of these committees will bring most of the legislators back to Austin during the next 18 months.

Studies will cover a wide area, ranging from state and local tax policy to such subjects as livestock auctions and restorations of Santa Anna's battle flag.

All but three of the legislators who are appointed to the interim panels will be eligible to draw travel expenses to and from meetings. In addition, some study panels are furnished staff funds.

Some committees will delve into: election laws, juvenile crime, rights of news media in reporting on persons charged with crime, liquor laws, the nursing profession, problems of farmers and ranchers, feasibility of a Pleasure Island State Park, public education, facilities for the criminally insane, and need for modernizing state fair facilities.

GOVERNOR VETOES SPENDING — Gov. John Connally red penciled $2,600,000 of what he termed non-essential items in the $3,600,000 budget for 1966-67.

$200,000 for state aid to airport construction;

$200,000 for further improvements at Dam B State Park near Jasper;

$275,000 for boll weevil eradication;

$126,000 for salaries in the new Department of Mental Health and Retardation;

Advice Given on Control of Weeds And Moss In Ponds by Agent

Nuisance pond weeds or "moss" is a major problem interfering with fishing and fish production in many ponds and tanks, says Jones County Agent Kirby Clayton. The old problem of catching more weeds than fish can be remedied if proper practices are followed," he adds. Weed control should begin at the very start of pond or tank construction. Clayton goes on to explain. Unwanted weeds are most prevalent in tanks with an excessive amount of shallow enough for sunlight to penetrate to the bottom, then unwanted weeds are sure to grow. Toover come this problem, new tanks should be constructed so that there is very little water with a depth less than three or four feet. If the pond has already been constructed, two other weed control practices may be used effectively, Clayton says.

One method used to control weeds that grow beneath the surface of the water is proper fertilization. Commercial inorganic fertilizer used to increase fish production can also help keep weeds under control by increasing plankton production. Plankton, a bloom in the water, may retard plant growth by reducing the amount of sunlight that penetrates the water. However, if these plants are already a problem, chemical herbicides probably offer the most satisfactory means of destroying them. A large number of chemical herbicides are effective in controlling certain aquatic plants. Clayton points out that no single herbicide is effective in controlling all different types of pond weeds. For this reason, it is essential that the weed or weeds to be killed are identified and the proper herbicides applied in the correct amounts.

He emphasizes that most herbicides will not cause apparent harm to fish, livestock or humans, if the necessary precautions are taken. Because of this, it is mandatory that the instructions on the label of herbicides be read and strictly followed. The local agent has a new bulletin giving aquatic plant identification characteristics and control suggestions, and Clayton says it is available for the asking.

Help on Stocking Ponds Given

Stock your pond with whatever kind or kinds of fish you like to catch, advises County Agent Kirby Clayton. If you are a catfisherman only, there is no reason to stock other species, the same goes for bass or sunfish.

Many sources recommend stocking a forage fish along with large mouth bass. This practice is not necessary in Texas and is even detrimental in some cases. The female bluegill, a forage fish, can spawn as many as four times a year in Texas, resulting in thousands of small bluegill that never reach edible size.

If a pond owner desires sunfish in his pond, the most suitable species is the redear. The redear spawns only once a year and thereby lengthens the time before overcrowding occurs.

The pond should always be stocked with fingerlings that are approximately the same size such as those obtained from the state or federal hatcheries. Fingerlings should never be taken from a nearby stream or pond and adult fish should not be left in ponds to be stocked with fingerlings. The adults should be removed and the pond stocked with a balanced number of fingerlings.

Applications for stock fish

may be made at any time. However, fish are delivered only once each year during the summer or early fall. Pond owners should never "hedge" on the size of the pond in an effort to get more fish. Just as range land has a certain capacity for a specific number of animals, a pond can only support a certain number of pounds of desirable fish.

For more information concerning your pond, County Agent Kirby Clayton suggests Bulletin B-213, "Improve Your Farm Fish Pond," which is available free of charge at his office.

by Barbara Craig

We really have heard the comment about last week's paper concerning the engagement announcement of Phyllis Scarborough and Tommy Lee Gill. In making corrections, a wrong line was put into the story and the proper line appeared on the front page in a personal about Mr. and Mrs. Joe Fleckenstein.

By reading the paper completely, the puzzle can be put together, although it would have been hard to know were the line "p. m." came from since the story in which it belonged did not make last week's issue.

The line which accidentally appeared in the engagement announcement was a part of the birth announcement of the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Eisenbach. We are running both stories again this week, and our apologies to both parties. Speaking of the Eisenbachs, she can be seen quite frequently at the window of the nursery at the Hamlin Hospital. They will get to take Neil Wade home when he weighs at least five pounds.

We were very pleased with the results of our pictures in last week's issue. The pictures were prepared for printing in our own shop on the new Journalist Scan-O-Graver made by Fairchild Graphic Arts.

This machine is so new that there is no complete instruction book for its operation and a representative is sent from the company to install and train an operator.

Placed on the market in January, the first machine of this type was delivered in February.

A machine to make engravings has been on the market for some time but the Journalist enables the user to do line work.

The most important factor is that we can now take a picture of something happening on Wednesday and have it in Thursday morning's paper. Also, we can always be assured of having the picture and not be caught as we were when we did not get the engraving for Mrs. Ned Moore back.

Good weather prevailed all three days of the Hamlin Riding Club's rodeo this past weekend. This made all the members quite happy as it has almost become tradition for rain to come sometime during the show.

Thursday afternoon, a dark blue cloud appeared in the north and it looked like we were in for a good downpour. Aspermont reported something over three inches. The rain did come close, it rained up to the fence on Don Elmore's place, just a quarter mile north of the arena.

When a club is obligated $1,400 for the stock for the rodeo, whether there is a show or not, it is not hard to see why there would be worried expressions when rain clouds begin to form.

Keeping Up to Date...

by Mary Y. Newberry

This is the time of year when we think of food preservation, says Mrs. Mary Y. Newberry, Jones County Home Demonstration Agent. Freezing is one of the simplest and fastest methods of preserving foods at home. It keeps the natural odor, fresh flavor, and food values of most fruits, vegetables, and meats better than other methods of food preservation.

Freezing provides the convenience of having the food products that can be prepared quickly for serving.

Five points to success in freezing foods are (1) good quality, (2) careful preparation, (3) Proper packaging, (4) loading the freezer and (5) length of storage.

For freezing green beans follow these instructions: Select only fresh, tender young beans, wash, cut or snap off the tips, and sort for size. Freeze small beans whole if desired. Cut or break larger beans into boiling water and cover. Keep the heat on high and begin counting heating time immediately. Heat in boiling water - Small beans - 2 minutes, Medium beans - 3 minutes, Large beans - 4 minutes. Plunge basket of heated beans into a large container of ice water or into running cold water. It takes about as long to cool vegetables as to heat them. When beans are cool, remove them from water and drain. Pack the beans into moisture-vapor-proof container with name of vegetables, locker number and date. Freeze immediately and store at 0 degrees F. or below.

For more information on freezing fruits and vegetables get the newest bulletin on "Frozen Foods" from Mrs. Newberry's office. It is located in the basement of the courthouse.

PEANUTS

There's good news for peanut fanciers with weight problems. The U. S. Department of Agriculture research workers have developed a process which puts peanuts in a much lower calorie group, reports Mrs. Mary Y. Newberry, Jones County Home Demonstration Agent.

The process, developed at the Southern Utilization Research Laboratory, New Orleans, makes possible the removal of 80 percent of the oil and three-fourths of the calories but leaves intact the peanuts good flavor and high protein content.

When the new product goes into commercial production, Mrs. Newberry said, it should open up new markets for peanut growers, whose production has been increasing faster than consumption. The procedure is simple. Shelled nuts are brought to a proper moisture content and pressed in a hydraulic press to remove most of the oil, which constitutes about 50 percent of the peanut's weight.

The pressed kernels are flat and mis-shapen, but they return to their original shape and size when soaked in water. Salt, sugar, spices or other flavorings can be added during this reconstitution period. After the low-calorie nuts are dried, they are ready for eating as is, for roasting or for use in candies and other foods. Exploratory studies, at New Orleans, the agent added, have shown that the same process might be used to produce low-calorie pecans, walnuts, almonds, brazil nuts, chestnuts, cashew and other nut meats.

The research which developed the new process is part of the Department's continuing program to develop new and expanded uses for farm products.

Learn the language of your electrical appliances and you may prevent a fire, appliance damage, or personal injury. Mrs. Mary Y. Newberry, Jones county home demonstration agent, lists five warnings signals, that if unheeded, could cause a lot of trouble.

1. Blinking or annoying "on-off" periods in the operation of an appliance usually means there is a loose connection. Perhaps it is only a loose screw but repair it before a more serious problem occurs.

2. "Tingle" a slight shock when handling an appliance or switch tells you there's trouble brewing. Inspect for loose wires or poor insulation. Or the appliance may need a "ground wire" connected.

3. Crumbling of rubber insulation on lamp or appliance cords can eventually expose electric wires which can short-circuit, or make metal lamp bases a serious shock hazard.

4. Dimming of lights or slowing of heating appliances when motors start indicates that the circuit are overloaded. Overloaded circuits means overheated wires -- a dangerous fire hazard.

5. Blown fuses or tripped circuit breakers are also signals of overloaded or shorted circuits.

Be sure the fuse is the right one for the size of wiring. If the fuse will let more power through than the wiring can safely carry, it is not a safety device. Overheated wires, damaged motors and fires can be caused by using the wrong fuse or a penny-repaired fuse.

These five warning signals are more than mere annoyances. They are real dangers which only the foolish will ignore. When you get the signal, discard and replace worn cords, and have outlets, switches, and sockets repaired. If you aren't sure of your own repair techniques, call on your electrical repairman, advised Mrs. Newberry. If the need for repairs is a constant and continuing problem in your home, the reason may be old and inadequate wiring. The simplest and least expensive answer in the long run may be additional wiring.

Check with your utility residential wiring specialist or a competent electrician. They can give you the pros and cons, explain new developments, and tell you what an adequate wiring system for your home would cost, Mrs. Newberry said.

HD Rally Day Held In Anson June 16

Rally Day was held June 16 at the Lions Club Hall in Anson in conjunction with the regular monthly meeting of the Jones County Home Demonstration Council.

Club programs given last month were on "Frozen Foods" and "Causes and Effects of Allergies."

Skits and games were given by the 10 clubs of the County. Mrs. E. T. Pittard, Mrs. J. C. Duff and Miss Ethel Rowell judged the skits. The winning skits were presented by Willow Creek, 1st. prize, Bluebonnet, 2nd. prize and Stith, 3rd. prize. Sixty-eight people registered and were present for the luncheon at noon.

Karen Sullivan, Noodle 4H club member, presented the Demonstration, "Money Management" which won for her a second place in both District and State 4H Competition.

Four members of one family representing four generations were present in this meeting. They were Mrs. H. M. Cantrell, her daughter, Mrs. C. E. Carlton and Mrs. Robert Bird, daughter of Mrs. Carlton and Vicky Bird, from the Pleasant Valley Club.

New Spring Clothes Deserve Care

You have probably noticed that summer colors and fashions are feminine, with a softness that is attractive and flattering, reminds Mrs. Mary Y. Newberry, Jones County home demonstration agent.

Gracing the scene are all types of beautiful fabrics -- in colors ranging from coral pinks to mint greens, and a wide range of blues and other colors.

Before buying a garment, check it over carefully to be sure that you are getting high quality. A wise shopper always checks the construction of a garment carefully to see if the seams are at least one-half inch wide and that the stitches are close together.

There are many kinds of fiber used in making the interesting materials, so be sure to read the labels and hangtags carefully to know what the fabric is made of and how to care for it. Correct care is important to keep new garments looking new. Professional launderings and drycleaning assures that your garment will stay new looking with proper care by experts in the fabric field.

Line Straightener

Those last few feet on a spool of monofilament line have a way of getting kinky thus making it difficult to fish and to rewind line on reel. You can take out the kinks by rubbing the line back and forth over the rubber heel of your boot.

WHAT'S NEW

In design trends, crisp checks will be popular this fall, says Mrs. Mary Y. Newberry, Jones County Home Demonstration Agent. The fall renderings of gingham checks show white grounds transposed to light camel effectively combined with dark hues. Bold plaids will also be right this fall, whether heading for kindergarten, college or career. Cotton, synthetics and woollens boast an enormous selection, while plaids on unexpected fabrics as velvets, silks and matelasses add excitement.

Woolens are a growing trend toward the smoother look, says, Mrs. Newberry. Soft, elegant, closely cropped coatings with a luxurious velvet-like hand stress broadcloth, fleeces, melton, and velour in heavier weights.

Crocheted - look weaves move into a more dominant position for fall in new versions. Lacy, open-stitched wools, loosely worked lenos and intricate cobweb tracery with a hand-crafted quality show up strongly in both knitted and woven fabrics. Some are see-through while others are bonded to tricot.

Hits in knits - new novelty stitches highlight: the hand-crocheted-look, tweedy effects vertical ribbons, boucle surfaces, lacy stitchery, lattice weaves, ottoman, chenille types, jacquard, matelasses, smooth silky jerseys, and textured double knits for soft, drapable fashions. Bonding unmistakably broadens the horizons of knitted fabrics while maintaining their characteristically supple hand.

Corduroys will present an even greater variety this season. Broader, plushier wales for separates and outerwear and a new novelty diamond pattern with a quilted appearance are attracting immediate attention. Extensive color ranges allow every opportunity to coordinate with cotton print lines. Corduroy prints mock woven effects in pronounced herring bones, hound's tooth checks, plaids and tweedy impressions.

Bonded fabrics are more than ever in the fashion picture. A widening variety of fabrics, both knotted and woven, are bonded for greater versatility. This process of joining fabrics-to-fabrics via adhesives stabilizes open weaves, eliminates the need for separate linings, and prevents bagging and sagging in the finished garment. Stretch fabrics there is no doubt that stretch fabrics are here to stay. It is only a matter of time before stretch is accepted as a natural attribute in all forms of clothing.

Leather looks - newest developments feature coated fabrics. Cotton capeskin treated with a silicone resin that simulates the supple look and feel of genuine leather is both washable and dry-cleanable.

Cong. Burleson Reapportionment Of Both Houses in Legislatures

In a statement before the Committee on the Judiciary on June 23, Congressman Omar Burleson of Anson again strongly protested the Supreme Court Decision regarding reapportionment of State Legislatures. The Committee is holding hearings on a proposal for an amendment to the Constitution that shall prohibit a State, having a bicameral legislature, from apportioning the membership of one house of its legislature on factors other than population.

A similar statement was made last year by Burleson, but the effort is now being continued by Members of Congress such as Omar Burleson, who have introduced legislation on the subject.

In commenting on the present effort, Burleson stated that since our own Legislature and many other State Legislatures either have or are in the process of reapportioning themselves, he felt that the current move, even if successful, would not accomplish what they would like to have seen accomplished last year, in those places where action has already been taken. The Congressman continued, "Be this as it may, the principle remains and should be protected. It is fundamental to the well being of the minority, which in this case is the more rural areas, that they have representation in the State Legislature on a basis other than population alone. I strongly feel that our State Senate and any other State Senate should not have to reapportion itself, not taking into consideration a community

New Park In Northeast Hamlin Now Being Used by Area Youth

A park in Northeast Hamlin started several months ago is now being used by children in that area. The park was made possible by the organization of the Northeast Hamlin Development Club.

Through the work of the board of directors and contributions of friends land was secured, leveled, and made into a park which has swings, seesaws, croquets, horseshoe pitching and Little League baseball area.

The park is located between Northeast D and F between Northeast 5th and 6th streets. The project now being planned is a combination tennis-basketball court. Also, water is needed so that trees and flowers can be planted. The addition of lights would make it possible to plan night activities for the youth.

The board of directors is working toward the above goals and any club, organization, or individual wishing to aid the group may contact any of the board members during the summer.

The board is composed of Willis Paige, president; James Mayes, treasurer; Elgin Baldwin, Bill W. Cork, Rev. A. F. Douglas, L. J. Lee, Freddie Lyles and John R. Mayfield, directors.

The park development group has expressed their thanks to all those who have made the present facility possible. The swings were made by the Hamlin Jaycees and many individuals have made donations.

NEW PARK NOW IN USE—Children in Northeast Hamlin are shown playing at the new park started by the Northeast Hamlin Development Club. The swings were built by the Hamlin Jaycees and through donations from groups and individuals the see-saws and other improvements were made. The park includes two blocks and on the east section is a Little League ball field.

Several Appear Before County Equalization Board

Thirty-one property owners appeared before the county equalization board last week at Anson to justify the lower renditions they had made on their property.

Approximately a like amount also had filed lower values but did not appear before the board. However, Judge Leon Thurman said, the valuations were checked to determine if an error had been made.

Four representatives of McMorries and Co., the firm which made the valuation survey, were present to hear complaints and answer questions.

No figures were available as to amount of reductions in values that were made Judge Thurman said, as representatives of the McMorries firm took the work sheets with them to make changes on the renditions cards. For the most part, he said, there were no changes.

Approximately 100 pieces of property were involved.

Neinda Philosopher Joins In With National Beauty Drive With A Few Minor Exceptions

Editor's note: The Neinda Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Route 1 discusses beauty this week, in an odd sort of way.

Dear editor:
I have been reading about a national drive to preserve the natural beauty of this country and I can go along with a good part of it, although first Washington has to understand my definition of natural beauty.

Some people I suppose would consider an electric light pole unnatural, it didn't grow there, but not me. There's nothing more countrified toward your house bringing power to an electric water pump to replace a rope and bucket. A rope and bucket may be more romantic looking in a rustic sort of way, but if you want to get completely natural you'd eliminate all hydrants and have everyone cup his hands and drink out of a spring, preferably barefooted.

One of the major goals I understand in the beauty drive is to eliminate automobile junk along the highways, or at least screen them from view, and I'd like Washington to know I'm ahead on this. I left a cultivator at the turn-off near a public road 18 years ago when I went to the house to get a drink of water and have no successfully screened it with weeds I estimate to be about 8 feet tall. Furthermore I have not contributed to the junkyard eyecore personally as I am still driving my car. Also, I haven't put up any billboards or rickety hotdog stands, and I don't print newspaper to be thrown out of cars to litter up the highways. You might say I'm in almost total compliance.

However, there is one plank

in the beauty program that seems to me outrageous. One of the members of the planning group got a little overenthusiastic and wanted to eliminate sagging fences along the highways. "There's nothing more unattractive," he said, "than sagging wires along a highway winding through the rolling countryside."

Well, I'll tell you. Tight wires and tight bankers have their usefulness, but not in the beauty department. The prime purpose of a fence or a banker is not to look at.

I'll tighten the wires on my fences only when my cows get out, or actually when they get out so often my neighbors announce what's going to happen if I don't do something about it, today, not tomorrow. That's the way to get a fence tightened, not through Washington.

You let some official tell you how tight your fence has to be, and his next move will be to tell you what kind and color of cows you can graze behind it. Cows, like Congressmen, are not to be gazed at esthetically. They're to be milked as long as they produce, then turned over to the packers.

Yours faithfully
J. A.

Electric Co-ops are DEMOCRACY AT WORK...

Rural electric cooperative systems were created by rural Americans themselves to bring electricity to their farms and homes and business enterprises, when service was unavailable elsewhere.

Motivated only by the need of the consumer and based on sound democratic principles, with each consumer-member casting his vote to determine our policies, our enterprise has helped bring the benefits of Twentieth Century progress to rural areas, and has proved itself as a model of democracy in action. To keep one step ahead of continually growing power requirements in our rural areas is both our duty and our aim.

Mrs. Elmer Joiner
Finally, it seems that the farmers all have their cotton up, so things aren't quite as hectic, but they are still real busy getting it all plowed out. In the eastern part of the community a big rain fell last week, early in the week, but didn't reach as far as town, except for around a half inch. Maize is headed out and the best prospects in years for a maize crop.

The Fred Rosenbaum and the H. L. Fords took advantage of the rain and went to Brownwood lake, fishing, last Thursday and returned Friday. They reported no luck, but were honest enough to admit that they did buy fish to eat, from some one luckier than they.

The Family Night was enjoyed by all of those that enjoy ice cream, last Wednesday night. Twenty two came from Hanna Church, twenty three were present from our church and three visitors from Hamlin, or we might not say visitors, just old timers came back home for a visit. Since there were eight freezers of cream and three cakes, believe every one had the opportunity to eat all they wanted. Rev. Bob Watson, pastor of Hanna, brought devotional, and a period of singing was enjoyed. The devotional period, eating period and fellowship period all made for a very enjoyable evening.

home, spend the night and return the next day, so since she had been away several weeks she visited with her parents the Winsons Grays.

The Winsons Grays had lots of company last week. His brother, Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Gray, Ken and Douglas, from California, also a son of the Doyle Grays, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Gray and little sons, David and Douglas, were Tuesday visitors. Also on hand were Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Gray, Anson, parents of the Gray men. Saturday night, the Gary Grays returned, and were in church with them Sunday.

Mrs. Joyce Bills, Jana and Tonya, arrived on the train, early Sunday morning, to stay until Friday with her parents the Winsons Grays. They were in both services Sunday, Jana helping "Grandpa" lead the singing Sunday night.

In case anyone is wondering where the Henrys took off for when it rained, last week, will report that they went to Midland Thursday and stayed until Saturday, with their son, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Henry and girls. It is amazing to some of the younger folks how Mr. and Mrs. Henry can go visiting when they are so tired after working, but even though they are senior citizens they do enjoy going, and we all hope we can just be as active and lovable as they, when we get a few years older.

Mrs. Mary E. Tanner and Larry, were visitors of the

Kenneth Leverett over the weekend.

Visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Flavil Holmes, from Sunday until Thursday, were their granddaughters, Melinda Wright, Abilene, and Melody Holmes. Big Spring. Mrs. Jimmy Holmes came Thursday to get the little daughter, returning the next morning. Melinda spent the last part of the week with Mr. and Mrs. Wright in Hamlin.

It is always a great pleasure to me to report that I went to Abilene and carried a dear friend, Mrs. Lois Hampton, to the Rehabilitation Center, and to report on her condition. Her usual day is Thursday, but last week arrangement had been made for her to go Wednesday to see Dr. Brey, who is only at the place on that day. After an examination, he recommended she be fitted with a short leg brace, to aid her in learning to walk with her bad leg. Mrs. Hampton's general condition is improving, the therapy she receives at the center has helped her, both physically and her speech.

Mrs. Kenneth Leverett was honored, Saturday night, with a pink and blue shower in the home of Mrs. Elmer Joiner.

Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Goodwin and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Joiner went to the Anson Hospital, to visit with the family of Mr. T. J. Treadwell, who had serious surgery Thursday. Mr. Treadwell, an uncle of the women, had an emergency operation for a ruptured ulcer, is reported to be doing well for the seriousness of his surgery, but was not having any company.

Ten people, including three of our four deacons, were present at the Workers Conference, in Anson, last Tuesday night. We felt rather proud, for that exceeded the number a lot of the bigger churches had present. The meeting was on the relation of the pastor and deacon, so 66 deacons were there.

The men met last Wednesday morning, at the church, to clean the yards for with all of the rain we have had, it was looking rather "wooly", as the saying goes, some were even getting afraid of snakes. It looks much better and we hope it stays that way until our revival, which will only be three weeks away.

BIRTH

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Eisenbach are parents of a boy, Neil Wade, born June 15 at 6:46 p. m. He weighed 4 lbs. 4 oz. They have three other children, Roy Jr., 6, Lane Allen, 5, and Van Kent, 4. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Eisenbach and Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Piedfort, all of San Angelo.

Miss Leone Meadows of Wichita Falls spent the weekend with her sister, Mrs. P. A. Fowler.

LONGING

To every child there comes a time when they begin to wonder... Where did I come from? Who made the trees? Who made the mountains?

EVERYONE has a desire to know their creator.

"O GOD, thou art my God; early will I seek thee: my soul thirsteth for thee..."

This longing for knowledge of God should be satisfied at an early age.

"Train up a child in the way he should go: and when he is old, he will not depart from it."

Plan NOW to attend church with your family.

Garland Preston Receives Award

Garland Preston, local representative of Great American Reserve Insurance Company, has received the Yearling Achievement Award for his outstanding sales performance during the past year.

The award is granted by the General Agents and Managers Conference of Abilene to a life underwriter for unusual achievements during the early years of a most promising career in Life Underwriting. Preston received the award at the recent Ladies Night Banquet of the Abilene Association of Life Underwriters. Preston has represented Great American in this area since May 1964.

By - - Vern Sanford Texas Press Association AUSTIN, Tex. — A total of 33 interim study committees were created during the recent legislative session.

Meetings of these committees will bring most of the legislators back to Austin during the next 18 months.

Studies will cover a wide area, ranging from state and local tax policy to such subjects as livestock auctions and restorations of Santa Anna's battle flag.

All but three of the legislators who are appointed to the interim panels will be eligible to draw travel expenses to and from meetings. In addition, some study panels are furnished staff funds.

Some committees will delve into: election laws, juvenile crime, rights of news media in reporting on persons charged with crime, liquor laws, the nursing profession, problems of farmers and ranchers, feasibility of a Pleasure Island State Park, public education, facilities for the criminally insane, and need for modernizing state fair facilities.

GOVERNOR VETOES SPENDING — Gov. John Connally red penciled $2,600,000 of what he termed non-essential items in the $3,600,000 budget for 1966-67.

Connally said he felt the Legislature in general appropriated wisely, but he line-item vetoed:

$1,100,000 for one of three new buildings at Angelo State College, San Angelo;

$300,000 from a total of $800,000 for a museum at Washington State Park;

$200,000 for state aid to airport construction;

$200,000 for further improvements at Dam B State Park near Jasper;

$275,000 for boll weevil eradication;

$126,000 for salaries in the new Department of Mental Health and Retardation;

$138,000 for water system improvements at Rusk State Hospital;

$12,000 a year for a new special director in the Parks and Wildlife Department;

$5,000 for stream flow measurement in Upper Red River Flood Control and Irrigation District;

$30,000 for John E. Connor Museum at Texas College of Arts and Industries, Kingsville;

$39,200 for doctoral-level instruction at East Texas State University, Commerce; and $110,000 for forestry research at Stephen F. Austin State College, Nacogdoches.

Connally also vetoed a bill which would have made the lieutenant governor a member of the powerful State Building Commission in place of the State Board of Control chairman.

COURTS SPEAK — Third Court of Civil Appeals now has ruled that the Guadalupe-Blanco River Authority is entitled to 50,000 acre feet of water a year from Canyon Dam Reservoir near New Braunfels.

In a new opinion, court remained convinced that the City of San Antonio should get no water from the reservoir. Decision upheld 1957 order of Texas Water Commission and 1964 ruling of 98th district court. Principal change in Third Courts findings was that G-BRA has authority to distribute water for use for cities downstream.

Court of Criminal Appeals overruling a Kieberg County district court, held Paul Eric Krueger, 17-year-old Californian, is entitled to $15,000 bail on each of three charges of triple slayings.

REDISTRICTING URGED — Governor Connally has reluctantly signed new district court bills for Lubbock, Dallas, El Paso, Harris and Tarrant Counties. He said the next Legislature should address itself to the matter of judicial redistricting.

"While there is merit for new courts in these specific counties," Connally concluded "when the state is taken as a whole, there are sufficient judges to carry the existing workload."

Jury of View Sets FM Road Values

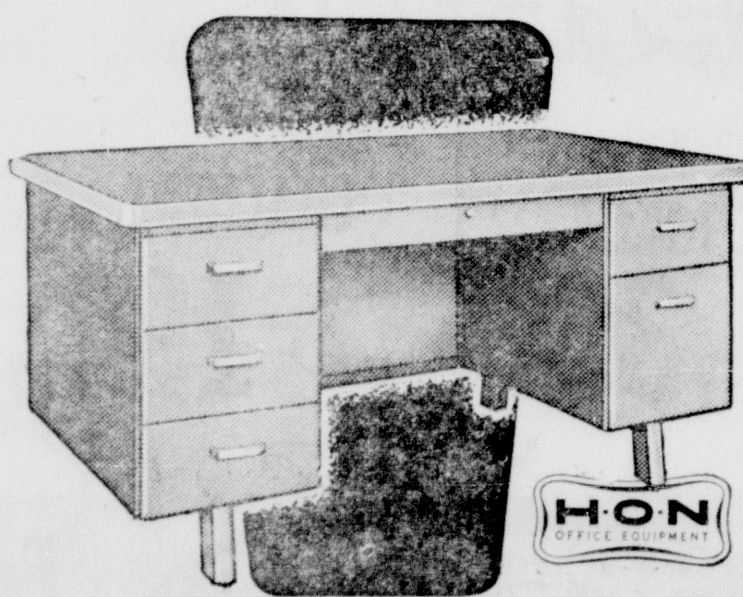

A jury of view set values on two pieces of property that will be condemned for the Oil Mill farm to market road. The prices set by the three-man board were the same as had been offered property owners by the county right of way agent.

Cobb Ford Sales were awarded $1250 for 0.217 acres which will be needed to round off the approach from Highway 277 and alongside their building. R. V. Sandefur was awarded $50 for a corner that will be rounded off.

The property owners have the right to appeal to county court if they are not satisfied with the award.

Contract on the road is to be let in July. Serving on the jury were Tom Chandler, Vernon Lovvorn and Roy Plumlee.

Patricia Ann Shell of Baytown is visiting her aunt and family, Mr. and Mrs. Joe A. Simpson and Carol Joe.

Advice Given on Control of Weeds And Moss In Ponds by Agent

Nuisance pond weeds or "moss" is a major problem interfering with fishing and fish production in many ponds and tanks, says Jones County Agent Kirby Clayton. "The old problem of catching more weeds than fish can be remedied if proper practices are followed," he adds. Weed control should begin at the very start of pond or tank construction. Clayton goes on to explain. Unwanted weeds are most prevalent in tanks with an excessive amount of shallow enough for sunlight to penetrate to the bottom, then unwanted weeds are sure to grow. Toover come this problem, new tanks should be constructed so that there is very little water with a depth less than three or four feet. If the pond has already been constructed, two other weed control practices may be used effectively, Clayton says.

One method used to control weeds that grow beneath the surface of the water is proper fertilization. Commercial inorganic fertilizer used to increase fish production can also help keep weeds under control by increasing plankton production. Plankton, a bloom in the water, may retard plant growth by reducing the amount of sunlight that penetrates the water. However, if these plants are already a problem, chemical herbicides probably offer the most satisfactory means of destroying them. A large number of chemical herbicides are effective in controlling certain aquatic plants. Clayton points out that no single herbicide is effective in controlling all different types of pond weeds. For this reason, it is essential that the weed or weeds to be killed are identified and the proper herbicides applied in the correct amounts.

He emphasizes that most herbicides will not cause apparent harm to fish, livestock or humans, if the necessary precautions are taken. Because of this, it is mandatory that the instructions on the label of herbicides be read and strictly followed. The local agent has a new bulletin giving aquatic plant identification characteristics and control suggestions, and Clayton says it is available for the asking.

Help on Stocking Ponds Given

Stock your pond with whatever kind or kinds of fish you like to catch, advises County Agent Kirby Clayton. If you are a catfisherman only, there is no reason to stock other species; the same goes for bass or sunfish.

Many sources recommend stocking a forage fish along with large mouth bass. This practice is not necessary in Texas and is even detrimental in some cases. The female bluegill, a forage fish, can spawn as many as four times a year in Texas, resulting in thousands of small bluegill that never reach edible size.

If a pond owner desires sunfish in his pond, the most suitable species is the redear. The redear spawns only once a year and thereby lengthens the time before overcrowding occurs.

The pond should always be stocked with fingerlings that are approximately the same size such as those obtained from the state or federal hatcheries. Fingerlings should never be taken from a nearby stream or pond and adult fish should not be left in ponds to be stocked with fingerlings. The adults should be removed and the pond stocked with a balanced number of fingerlings.

Applications for stock fish

may be made at any time. However, fish are delivered only once each year during the summer or early fall. Pond owners should never "hedge" on the size of the pond in an effort to get more fish. Just as range land has a certain capacity for a specific number of animals, a pond can only support a certain number of pounds of desirable fish.

For more information concerning your pond, County Agent Kirby Clayton suggests Bulletin B-213, "Improve Your Farm Fish Pond," which is available free of charge at his office.

Nosey Neighbor ...

by Barbara Craig
We really have heard the comment about last week's paper concerning the engagement announcement of Phyllis Scarborough and Tommy Lee Gill. In making corrections, a wrong line was put into the story and the proper line appeared on the front page in a personal about Mr. and Mrs. Joe Fleckenstein.

By reading the paper completely, the puzzle can be put together, although it would have been hard to know were the line "p. m." He weighed 4 lbs. 4 oz." came from since the story in which it belonged did not make last week's issue.

The line which accidentally appeared in the engagement announcement was a part of the birth announcement of the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Eisenbach. We are running both stories again this week, and our apologies to both parties. Speaking of the Eisenbachs, she can be seen quite frequently at the window of the nursery at the Hamlin Hospital. They will get to take Neil Wade home when he weighs at least five pounds.

We were very pleased with the results of our pictures in last week's issue. The pictures were prepared for printing in our own shop on the new Journalist Scan-O-Graver made by Fairchild Graphic Arts.

This machine is so new that there is no complete instruction book for its operation and a representative is sent from the company to install and train an operator.

Placed on the market in January, the first machine of this type was delivered in February.

A machine to make engravings has been on the market for some time but the Journalist enables the user to do line work.

The most important factor is that we can now take a picture of something happening on Wednesday and have it in Thursday morning's paper. Also, we can always be assured of having the picture and not be caught as we were when we did not get the engraving for Mrs. Ned Moore back.

Good weather prevailed all three days of the Hamlin Riding Club's rodeo this past weekend. This made all the members quite happy as it has almost become tradition for rain to come sometime during the show.

Thursday afternoon, a dark blue cloud appeared in the north and it looked like we were in for a good downpour. Aspermont reported something over three inches. The rain did come close, it rained up to the fence on Don Elmore's place, just a quarter mile north of the arena.

When a club is obligated $1,400 for the stock for the rodeo, whether there is a show or not, it is not hard to see why there would be worried expressions when rain clouds begin to form.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Elliott of Arlington were here last weekend visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Klump, and other relatives and friends.

Keeping Up to Date ...

by Mary Y. Newberry
This is the time of year when we think of food preser- vation, says Mrs. Mary Y. Newberry, Jones County Home Demonstration Agent. Freez- ing is one of the simplest and fastest methods of preserving foods at home. It keeps the natural odor, fresh flavor, and food values of most fruits, ve- getables, and meats better than other methods of food preservation.

Freezing provides the con- venience of having the food products that can be prepared quickly for serving.

Five points to success in freezing foods are (1) good quality, (2) careful prepara- tion, (3) Proper packaging, (4) loading the freezer and (5) length of storage.

For freezing green beans follow these instructions: Se- lect only fresh, tender young beans, wash, cut or snap off the tips, and sort for size. Freeze small beans whole if desired. Cut or break larger beans into boiling water and cover. Keep the heat on high and begin counting heating time immediately. Heat in boiling water - Small beans - 2 minutes, Medium beans - 3 minutes, Large beans - 4 minutes. Plunge basket of heated beans into a large con- tainer of ice water or into running cold water. It takes about as long to cool vegeta- bles as to heat them. When beans are cool, remove them from water and drain. Pack the beans into moisture-vapor- proof-container with name of vegetables, locker number and date. Freeze immediately and store at 0 degrees F. or below.

For more information on freezing fruits and vegetables get the newest bulletin on "Frozen Foods" from Mrs. Newberry's office. It is lo- cated in the basement of the courthouse.

PEANUTS

There's good news for pean- uts fanciers with weight prob- lems. The U. S. Department of Agriculture research work- ers have developed a process which puts peanuts in a much lower calorie group, reports Mrs. Mary Y. Newberry, Jones County Home Demon- stration Agent.

The process, developed at the Southern Utilization Re- search Laboratory, New Or- leans, makes possible the re- moval of 80 percent of the oil and three-fourths of the calories but leaves intact the peanuts good flavor and high protein content.

When the new product goes into commercial production, Mrs. Newberry said, it should open up new markets for pean- ut growers, whose produc- tion has been increasing faster than consumption. The pro- cedure is simple. Shelled nuts are brought to a proper mois- ture content and pressed in a hydraulic press to remove most to the oil, which consti- tutes about 50 percent of the peanut's weight.

The pressed kernels are flat and mis-shapen, but they re- turn to their original shape and size when soaked in water. Salt, sugar, spices or other flavorings can be added dur- ing this reconstitution period. After the low-calorie nuts are dried, they are ready for eat- ing as is, for roasting or for use in candies and other foods. Exploratory studies, at New Orleans, the agent added, have shown that the same process might be used to produce low- calorie pecans, walnuts, al- monds, brazil nuts, chestnuts, cashews and other nut meats.

The research which develop- ed the new process is part of the Department's continuing program to develop new and expanded uses for farm prod- ucts.

Learn the language of your electrical appliances and you may prevent a fire, appliance damage, or personal injury. Mrs. Mary Y. Newberry, Jones county home demonstration agent, lists five warnings sig- nals, that if unheeded, could cause a lot of trouble.

1. Blinking or annoying "on- off" periods in the operation of an appliance usually means there is a loose connection. Perhaps it is only a loose screw but repair it before a more serious problem occurs.
2. "Tingle" a slight shock when handling an appliance or switch tells you there's trouble brewing. Inspect for loose wires or poor insulation. Or the appliance may need a "ground wire" connected.
3. Crumbling of rubber in- sulation on lamp or appliance cords can eventually expose electric wires which can short- circuit, or make metal lamp bases a serious shock hazard.

4. Dimming of lights or slowing of heating appliances when motors start indicates that the circuit are overloa- ded. Overloaded circuits means overheated wires -- a danger- ous fire hazard.

5. Blown fuses or tripped circuit breakers are also sig- nals of overloaded or shorted circuits.

Be sure the fuse is the right one for the size of wiring. If the fuse will let more power through than the wiring can safely carry, it is not a safe- ty device. Overheated wires, damaged motors and fires can be caused by using the wrong fuse or a penny-repaired fuse.

These five warning signals are more than mere annoy- ances. They are real dangers which only the foolish will ig- nore. When you get the sig- nal, discard and replace worn cords, and have outlets, switch- es, and sockets repaired. If you aren't sure of your own repair techniques, call on your electrical repairman, advised Mrs. Newberry. If the need for repairs is a constant and continuing problem in your home, the reason may be old and inadequate wiring. The simplest and least expensive answer in the long run may be additional wiring.

Check with your utility re- sidential wiring specialist or a competent electrician. They can give you the pros and cons, explain new develop- ments, and tell you what an adequate wiring system for your home would cost, Mrs. Newberry said.

HD Rally Day Held In Anson June 16

Rally Day was held June 16 at the Lions Club Hall in An- son in conjunction with the regular monthly meeting of the Jones County Home De- monstration Council.

Club programs given last month were on "Frozen Foods" and "Causes and Af- fects of Allergies."

Skits and games were given by the 10 clubs of the County. Mrs. E. T. Pittard, Mrs. J. C. Duff and Miss Ethel Rowell judged the skits. The winning skits were presented by Wil- low Creek. 1st. prize, Blue- bonnet, 2nd. prize and Stith, 3rd. prize. Sixty-eight people registered and were present for the luncheon at noon.

Karen Sullivan, Noodle 4H club member, presented the Demonstration, "Money Man- agement" which won for her a second place in both District and State 4H Competition.

Four members of one fam- ily representing four genera- tions were present in this meeting. They were Mrs. H. M. Cantrell, her daughter, Mrs. C. E. Carlton and Mrs. Robert Bird, daughter of Mrs. Carlton and Vicky Bird, from the Pleasant Valley Club.

New Spring Clothes Deserve Care

You have probably noticed that summer colors and fash- ions are feminine, with a soft- ness that is attractive and flattering, reminds Mrs. Mary Y. Newberry, Jones County home demonstration agent.

Gracing the scene are all types of beautiful fabrics - in colors ranging from coral pinks to mint greens, and a wide range of blues and other colors.

Before buying a garment, check it over carefully to be sure that you are getting high quality. A wise shopper always checks the construction of a garment carefully to see if the seams are at least one-half in width and that the stitches are close together.

There are many kinds of fi- ber used in making the inter- esting materials, so be sure to read the labels and hang- tags carefully to know what the fabric is made of and how to care for it. Correct care is important to keep new gar- ments looking new. Profession- al laundries and drycleaning assures that your garment will stay new looking with proper care by experts in the fabric field.

Line Straightener

Those last few feet on a spool of monofilament line have a way of getting kinky thus making it difficult to fish and to rewind line on reel. You can take out the kinks by rubbing the line back and forth over the rubber heel of your boot.

WHAT'S NEW

In design trends, crisp checks will be popular this fall, says Mrs. Mary Y. New- berry, Jones County Home De- monstration Agent. The fall renderings of gingham checks show white grounds transpos- ed to light camel effectively combined with dark hues. Bold plaids will also be right this fall, whether heading for kindergarten, college or career. Cotton, synthetics and woolsens boast an enormous selection, while plaids on un- expected fabrics as velvets silks and matelasses add ex- citement.

Woolsens are a growing trend toward the smoother look, says, Mrs. Newberry. Soft, elegant, closely cropped coatings with a luxurious vel- vety hand stress broadcloth, fleeces, melton, and velour in heavier weights.

Crocheted - look weaves move into a more dominant position for fall in new ver- sions. Lacy, open-stitched wools, loosely worked lenos and intricate cobweb tracery with a hand-crafted quality show up strongly in both knitted and woven fabrics. Some are see-through while others are bonded to tricot.

Hits in knits- new novelty stitches highlight: the hand- crocheted-look, tweedy effects vertical ribbons, boucle sur- faces, lacy stitchery, lattice weaves, ottoman, chenille types, jacquard, matelasses, smooth silky jerseys, and tex- tured double knits for soft, drapable fashions. Bonding unmistakably broadens the horizons of knitted fabrics while maintaining their char- acteristically supple hand.

Corduroys will present an even greater variety this sea- son. Broader, plushier wales for separates and outerwear and a new novelty diamond pat- tern with a quilted appearance are attracting immediate at- tention. Extensive color ranges allow every opportunity to co- ordinate with cotton print lines. Corduroy prints mock woven effects in pronounced herring bones, hound's tooth checks, plaids and tweedy im- pressions.

Bonded fabrics are more than ever in the fashion pic- ture. A widening variety of fabrics, both knitted and woven, are bonded for greater versatility. This process of joining fabrics-to-fabrics via adhesives stabilizes open weaves, eliminates the need for separate linings, and prevents bagging and sagging in the finished garment. Stretch fab- rics there is no doubt that stretch fabrics are here to stay. It is only a matter of time before stretch is accept- ed as a natural attribute in all forms of clothing.

Leather looks - newest devel- opments feature coated fab- rics. Cotton capeskin treated with a silicone resin that si- mulates the supple look and feel of genuine leather is both washable and dry-cleanable.
